Sauk To Offer X-Ray Technology

The departments of radiology of KSB Hospital, Community General Hospital, Sterling, and Dixon State School have affiliated with Sauk Valley College to offer a training program in x-ray technology at the college.

The objectives of this course are to attract high school graduates who are interested in receiving college-level training plus technical instruction in the ever-expanding and increasingly technical paramedical field of x-ray technology, and to prepare them to work in or administer an x-ray department.

"The upgrading of the training and education of the x-ray technologist is vital," says Dr. Saul L. Parks, director of radiology at the hospitals cooperating in the program, "and is necessary in order for x-ray technologists to compete with other branches of technology and to raise the scientific standing of the profession to a level which it deserves and which is consistent with its importance in the field of medicine."

The curriculum calls for a two-year program. (See SAUK . . . Page 2)

Posters Claim 250 Hurt in Peking Clash

TOKYO (AP) — Wall posters in Peking today reported that 250 persons were injured this week in fighting among supporters of Mao Tse-tung in a suburb of the Chinese capital.

Official Maoist mouthpieces also disclosed continuing resistance in Shansi and Kweichow provinces. Coupled with the reported clash in Peking, they indicated Mao's hold on at least some of the areas his forces claim to have seized from supporters of President Liu Shao-chi is by no means secure.

In Moscow

In Moscow, the Soviet Foreign Ministry announced it would begin evacuating wives and children of Soviet Embassy personnel from Peking Saturday, following a week of riotous demonstrations outside the Peking Embassy protesting the treatment of Chinese students passing through Moscow on their way home. So far there was no report that any of the approximately 300 Soviet officials in Peking were being recalled.

Wall posters reported by the Peking correspondent of the Japanese newspaper Asahi Shimbun said the Maoist "rebels" who stormed into the capital's police headquarters Jan. 17 to take it over in Mao's name had turned out to be as bad as those they replaced.

The reports said on Monday, when loyal Maoists sought to reason with them in suburban Shihchingshan, fighting broke out, 1,000 police were thrown into the fray, 250 persons were hurt — 50 of them seriously — and 400 Red Guards were arrested.

Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress' chances of following sound economic policies last year were wrecked by a $10-billion underestimate by President Johnson's administration of Vietnam war costs, Sen. William Proxmire said today.

The Wisconsin Democrat insisted to Budget Director Charles L. Schultze the Defense Department was bound to know the troop buildup in Vietnam was rising rapidly to the 400,000 mark and other expenses were mounting.

"The underestimate by $10 billion had a devastating effect on our economic policies," Proxmire, chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, told Schultze.

The budget director was a witness in hearings on Johnson's economic report.

"We failed to raise taxes as we might have done—although I did not favor this," Proxmire said. "We failed to cut spending as we might have done."

Schultze argued that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and others repeatedly told Congress the original budget figures for the year ending next June 30 did not necessarily represent the final defense costs and that supplemental appropriations would probably be needed.

Schultze said he thinks McNamara was right in deciding originally to estimate costs only through fiscal 1967 because at that stage the country was only "in the beginning phases of a rapid buildup" and the ultimate requirements could not be known.

Schultze said the situation was entirely different by the time the next year's budget was submitted last month.

"The buildup is much more gradual now," he said. "With 18 months of combat experience it is possible to predict much more accurately."

Thursday members of the committee sharply rapped administration plans to abandon federal wage-price guidelines. One suggested Congress should set the standards.

Poloan Waives Grand Jury Proceedings

OREGON — Gary Miller, 31, of Polo, accused of shooting his wife, Sue, 28, twice with a 12-gauge shotgun in their home Jan. 12, today waived grand jury proceedings during an appearance before Circuit Judge Helen M. Rutkowski.

William Hinkle was appointed by Judge Rutkowski to defend Miller, who was a rookie on the Polo police force at the time of the shooting.

A plea will be entered at 10 a.m. Thursday. He is charged with aggravated battery.

Mrs. Miller, who staged a dramatic fight for life following the shooting, is in good condition today in KSB Hospital, Dixon. The Millers have two children.

U.S.: Peace Moves Have Been Ignored

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he would be willing to halt American bombing of North Vietnam if the Hanoi government agreed to "just almost any step" in return.

Johnson, however, emphasized six times during a 25-minute White House news conference Thursday in these or similar words that "with the information that I have, with the knowledge that is brought to me, I must say that I do not interpret any action (by Hanoi) that I have observed as being a serious effort to either go to a conference table or to bring the war to an end."

Eager For Talks

At the same time, Johnson expressed eagerness for almost any type of discussions among the combatants — even talks to decide whether there was any basis for serious peace negotiations. And, in responding to a question that did not even deal with the war, the President volunteered: "I go to bed every night feeling that I failed that day because I could not end the conflict in Vietnam."

Standing before live television cameras and radio microphones in the crowded East Room, Johnson fielded 11 questions and made one brief statement on his own. Most questions dealt directly with Vietnam.

Other Topics

On other subjects, the President:

Volunteered praise for the proposed U.S.-Soviet consular treaty, now facing an uncertain fate in the Senate, and sought to offset widespread opinion that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover opposes the treaty.

Predicted the new Congress will deal more harshly than last year's with administration proposals, but expressed willingness to compromise where necessary.

Lauded the Democratic National Committee and said some within the party critical of its role in last November's election "have been using the committee as a kind of whipping boy."

Prison Sentence

Expressed the conviction that the nature of the cold war is changing and that, despite such occasional friction points as the eight-year prison sentence ordered by a Czech court this week for an American convicted of spying, the American government should continue to strive for better relations with Communist East Europe.

Johnson was asked what steps North Vietnam might take to persuade him to halt American bombings there.

"Just almost any step," he quickly replied.

Johnson said the United States would gladly explore any reciprocal action Hanoi might suggest.

At the outset, Johnson said the United States would welcome almost any kind of Vietnam peace talks.

Conference

"This might be the Geneva conference. It could be an all-Asian conference, or any other generally acceptable forum," he said.

He said, "We would participate in preliminary discussions which might open the way for formal negotiations. — Or there could be preliminary discussions to see whether there could be an agreed set of points which could be the basis for negotiation."

Humphreys To Run for Park Board

John Humphreys, 56, of 920 Cooper St., so far is the only person who has obtained a nominating petition for the upcoming Park Board election slated April 4.

Humphreys, a real estate salesman with Reuter Real Estate Agency, seeks a seat on the board to be vacated by Ken Mall, 210 Brinton Ave., whose term expires this year.

Mall, on the park board for some 12 years, said he will not seek re-election.

He also graduated from the Rockford School of Business and Engineering, Brooklyn School of Trades and Engineering and Chicago Technical College.

Last day for filing nominating petitions is March 4. Petitions may be obtained at the office of William Gunner, attorney for the board, Dixon National Bank Building.

End of Underground Mission

Wearing a gas mask, an American infantryman emerges from a cave in the Soui Cat Mountains, about 275 miles northeast of Saigon, South Vietnam. Troops of the 3rd Brigade, U.S. 25th Infantry Division, found huge natural caves which had been used by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese as hide-outs and headquarters. Several bodies were found in the caves after the Americans attacked with grenades and tear gas.

U.S. B52s Strike Viet War Zone 'C'

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers pounded war zone "C" with three raids today in what could be the prelude of a new American drive to clear the Viet Cong from that long-time jungle redoubt along the Cambodian frontier.

A triple blow against Communist positions 62 to 68 miles northwest of Saigon made a total of six strikes against the Viet Cong stronghold by the B52s since last Saturday.

U.S. military headquarters also announced that an American ground force of at least 8,000 men have started a new

Plaster Falls On Worker at DSS Today

A 40-year-old laborer at Dixon State School today suffered a broken leg and is undergoing x-ray examinations at Adlai E. Stevenson Hospital at DSS to determine the extent of other injuries he might have suffered when 300 square feet of plaster on a ceiling in a cottage in which he was working fell on him.

Gilbert Bulfer, Sublette, was working at the top of a scaffold in Cottage A-4 when a 10 by 30-foot area of plaster fell knocking both Bulfer and the scaffold to the floor.

Bulfer will have x-rays taken of his legs, chest, hips and back.

A plasterer working in the cottage, Merle Worman, 601 Logan Ave., who was standing at the base of the scaffolding suffered cuts and bruises and had his glasses broken.

Two DSS residents who were walking through the cottage also received minor cuts and bruises when the plaster fell.

Wreck Claims Third Victim

FREEPORT — Delbert Bunker, 46, of Freeport died today in Freeport Memorial Hospital, making a total of three persons killed as a result of injuries suffered Wednesday in a head-on auto collision on U.S. 20, West of Freeport.

Miss Blanche A. Fernstaedt, 18, of Warren, and Robert A. Voss, 46, Rt. 4, Freeport, the two drivers, died Wednesday.

Bunker was a passenger in Voss' car.

Refuse Repatriation

Officials said that at the last minute, two of the prisoners refused repatriation and elected to remain in South Vietnam. The two were Viet Cong guerrillas, while the other 28 were North Vietnamese soldiers. The prisoner release was timed as a search-and-destroy operation 29 miles northeast of Saigon in war zone D.

The multibrigade force began the drive, called Operation Big Spring, on Wednesday. So far, it has encountered only slight resistance. Commanders reported 14 Viet Cong killed to date in scattered, small skirmishes, with U.S. casualties termed light.

Taking part in Big Spring were the 173rd Airborne Brigade and the 1st Brigade of the 9th Infantry Division, which arrived in Vietnam last December, U.S. headquarters said.

During the day, the South Vietnamese government released 30 war prisoners to North Vietnam in a ceremony at the Ben Hai bridge in the middle of the demilitarized zone which separates North and South Vietnam.

Refuse Repatriation

Officials said that at the last minute, two of the prisoners refused repatriation and elected to remain in South Vietnam. The two were Viet Cong guerrillas, while the other 28 were North Vietnamese soldiers. The prisoner release was timed as a gesture for Tet, the Lunar New Year.

In war developments, ground fighting was largely confined to the northern provinces of South Vietnam where U.S. Marines reported killing 30 of the enemy in scattered engagements.

South Korean troops, operating in the central coastal areas, reported killing 57 Viet Cong in two engagements in Quang Ngai Province with support from offshore U.S. naval gunfire.

In one action, the shelling was credited with killing 33 enemy soldiers six miles east of Quang Ngai City.

In the other engagement, elements of the 2nd South Korean Brigade reported killing 24 Communists nine miles north-east of Quang Ngai.

The three B52 raids in war zone C in Tay Ninh Province struck within 1 1/4 miles of the Cambodian border, a U.S. military spokesman said.

Sunshine, Mild Temps In Illinois

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sunshine and milder weather came to Illinois today, and the forecast for Saturday predicted more of the same.

Winds shifted to southerly. Temperatures in the snow-packed northern counties moved into the melting range for several hours. The mercury was expected to drop below freezing over most of the state tonight, but more thawing was in prospect Saturday.

Highway conditions were generally good, but the Illinois division of highways said there were scattered patches of packed snow on roads north of a line through Rock Island and Kankakee.

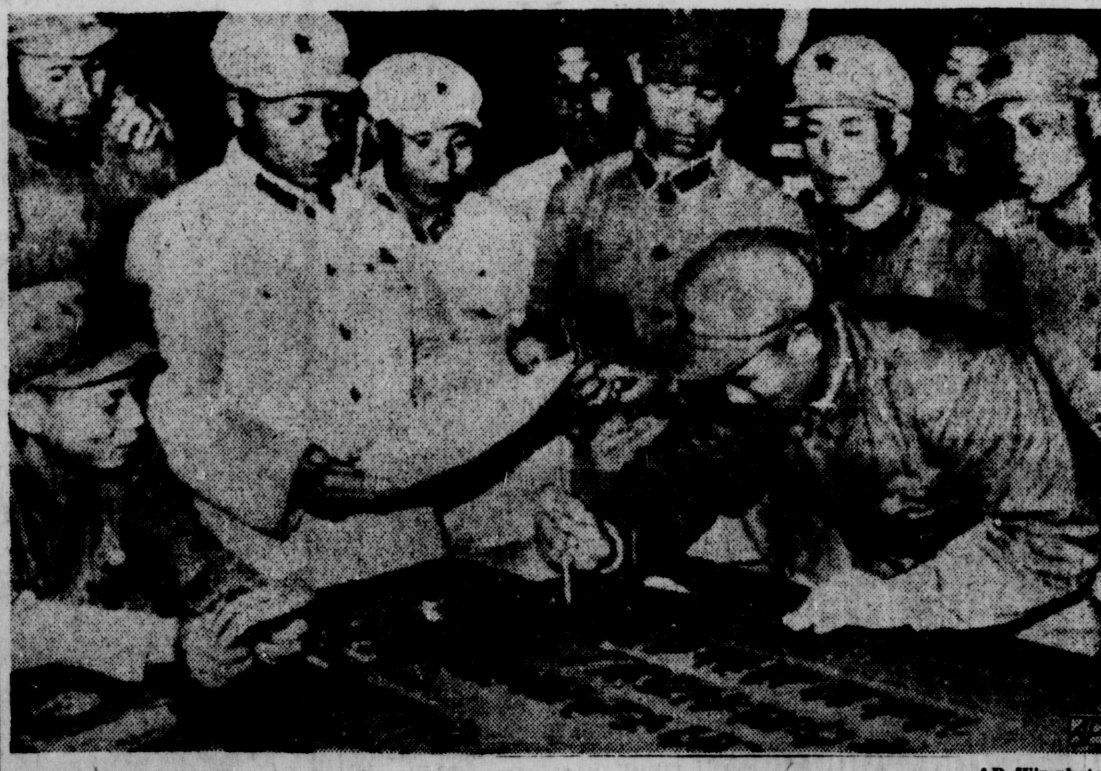

Northwestern Illinois was very cold during the night, and Moline recorded a low reading of zero. The mercury skidded to 2 above in Dixon, Rockford's low mark was 4 above zero, and East Dubuque had 6 above. Elsewhere the minimum readings were mostly in the 20s, with Springfield recording 18.

The warmest readings Thursday were along the Ohio River where low 60s were reached. The high at Belleville was only 35, however, and Vandalia's top mark was 37. Much of the snow-packed territory of northern Illinois did not have any periods above freezing, and maximum levels in this area were mostly in the 20s.

Youth Placed On Probation

Circuit Judge James E. Bales today sentenced 17-year-old Paul Mayo Ellison, 621 Second St., Rochelle, to one year probation for burglarizing a Compton grocery store on Dec. 14.

Ellison, who pleaded guilty to the charge at an earlier hearing, was arrested by deputy sheriffs with four Rochelle juveniles.

Nothing was taken in the burglary when the group was surprised by a deputy sheriff while in the process of burglarizing the store, authorities said. Ellison had been free on $5,000 bond pending today's hearing.

Mansfield held up the treaty in the 89th Congress rather than hazard a defeat that could bruise U.S.-Soviet relations.

Area Farmers Attend Clinic

Walter Gehrt, left, and Chuck Nusbaum, both Rt. 4, Dixon, farmers were among more than 600 area farmers who attended the Annual Corn and Soybean Clinic Thursday in the Dixon Theatre. They are pictured above registering for the clinic with Mrs. Jim Montgomery of Rochelle.

600 Farmers Go Back to 'School'

More than 600 area farmers "went back to school" Thursday to learn the inside story on producing bin-busting yields of corn and soybeans.

The "schoolhouse" was the Dixon Theatre. "Teachers" included John Reiser, Ashland, three-time Illinois soybean yield champ, and crop experts from six national agricultural companies.

Included during the six-hour Corn-Soybean Clinic were lessons covering the proper use of fertilizers, insecticides and herbicides, narrower row widths, grain drying and storage techniques, and modern equipment for planting and harvesting.

The program opened with a film titled "Soybeans, The Cinderella Crop," which depicted the increasing demand for soybeans as food in the world market.

Reiser claimed no secrets in producing his 1966 yield of 70.9 bushels per acre, in spite of adverse weather conditions. He recommended water, air and a balanced diet for soybeans, "... because the requirements of soil life are basically the same as our own." He placed special emphasis on weed control because weeds compete with crops for these growth essentials.

Chemicals Dropped on Viet Jungle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Weed killer has rained down on more than 1 million acres of jungle in South Vietnam, say Air Force leaders.

The purpose: To remove leaves from trees and vegetation which had masked Communist supply lines.

"Spraying herbicides from UC123 aircraft is a unique and highly successful special air warfare operation in Southeast Asia," Gen. John P. O'Connell, Air Force chief of staff, told senators Thursday at a closed hearing.

"The chemicals used in this program are commercial weed killers which are harmless to both humans and animals," the general testified. "They do remove foliage from vegetation, thereby greatly improving visibility for both ground and air operations."

By last Dec. 31, "more than a million acres had been defoliated," he said, "including very sizeable acreage along the so-called Ho Chi Minh Trail."

"We are now engaged in a six-month effort to defoliate large parts of Viet Cong sanctuaries."

Both O'Connell and Secretary of the Air Force Harold Brown said airpower had been effective in slowing the infiltration of troops and supplies from North to South Vietnam.

"We have a wide variety of programs designed to take the night away from the enemy," Brown said, referring to use of darkness and jungle cover for terrorist and supply activities.

The secretary said, "We are working on night target acquisition, testing various methods of illumination."

Censored testimony of the two Air Force leaders at a closed hearing of the Senate Armed Services Committee and Defense Appropriations subcommittee, made available outside, defended the restricted and limited bombing in North Vietnam.

Continue Case Against Dixonite

Mrs. Pauline Evans, 927 Forest Ave., charged with disorderly conduct, today had her case continued until Feb. 14, to give her court-appointed attorney time to familiarize himself with the case and to file any motions.

Mrs. Evans pleaded innocent to the charge at an earlier date before Magistrate Morey Pires and asked for a jury trial and an attorney. Lloyd Scriven, public defender, was appointed.

The charge stems from a complaint signed by Supt. Stanley Weber, which states she "created a disturbance in his office."

Urge Changes in State Election Procedures

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A candidate for governor would no longer ride on the coat-tail of a popular presidential candidate or vice versa — if a special state commission has its way.

The Illinois Commission on State Government also proposes to reduce the number of state offices the constitution requires to be elective.

In a report to the General Assembly and Gov. Otto Kerner, the commission proposes streamlining by combining departments. Changes often would be made also by new laws or by executive order.

Some commission members dissented from some recommendations.

Coat-tail riding would be avoided by amending the constitution to provide that the governor be chosen in even-numbered election years between presidential elections.

Other elective state officers would be chosen at the same time as the governor.

Other commission proposals for constitutional changes: — One vote would be cast by each elector for the governor and lieutenant governor as a team.

— The constitutional mandate for election of the state treasurer, state auditor and state school superintendent would be removed.

— The University of Illinois Board of Trustees would be appointed by the governor, subject to state Senate consent, instead of elective.

These seven new departments are among additional recommendations:

— Department of General Services, including budget functions, management of state buildings, autos, records, communications and data processing.

— Department of Adult Corrections and a Department of Law Enforcement. They would split such functions of the Department of Public Safety as prisons and state police.

— Department of Commerce and Licensing. This would combine functions of the Department of Financial Institutions, Department of Insurance, occupational licensing by the Department of Registration and Education, and truck regulation by the Illinois Commerce Commission. The commission would become the Public Utilities Commission and be attached to the new department.

— Department of Natural Resources. This would combine the Department of Conservation, Natural History, Geological and Water surveys and the Division of Waterways.

— Department of Transportation. It would have responsibilities of the Division of Highways and the Department of Aeronautics, and would have a division of local transportation to help cities.

— Department of Defense and Veterans Affairs. This would combine the Military and Naval Department, the Veterans Commission and Civil Defense Agency.

Prof. Jack F. Isakoff of Southern Illinois University, one of five public members, was the commission chairman. Ten other members were legislators.

Many of the recommendations concerned finances and fiscal practices.

The group recommended annual budgets, avoidance of additional earmarked funds, revising the constitutional debt limit upward, and requiring the governor to file his budget by Feb. 1 instead of April 1.

DHS Choir To Perform At Clinic

The Robed Choir of Dixon High School is rehearsing for a performance at Illinois State University in the Choral Clinic Festival set for Feb. 11. The choir accepted this invitation last spring as one of the highlights of this school year.

The students will have the opportunity to perform, as well as listen and analyze the performance of other choirs. Following each choir's performance, the choir will be criticized by either Donald Craig from the University of Wisconsin or Oscar Butler from New Mexico State University.

A guest conductor will discuss and illustrate various vocal and choral techniques with the DHS Robed Choir and their director James Wiltz.

Ni-Gas Earnings Continue Climb

Consolidated earnings of Northern Illinois Gas Company for 1966 continued upward, reaching $2.33 per common share, compared to $2.23 for 1965.

Ni-Gas revenues also hit a new high in 1966, Marvin Chandler, president, said, and pushed past the $200 million mark for the first time in the utility's history. Revenues of $218,900,000 were at most ten per cent higher than those of 1965, including a 29 per cent rise in industrial revenues.

Chandler also stated that the company expects to add approximately 30,000 new customers each year for the next several years. The growing company furnishes natural gas to 944,000 customers in a 16,000 square mile area in northern and western Illinois.

Bread Sale For March Of Dimes Set

The Girls' Athletic Association (GAA) of Dixon High School on Saturday will conduct the annual Bread Sale Drive with proceeds going to the March of Dimes.

Each year members of the club go house-to-house throughout the city giving residents a loaf of bread and asking for a donation for the March of Dimes.

The club's activities for the remainder of the winter season in addition to indoor sports includes bowling and swimming.

Tuesdays and Wednesdays offer table tennis and cageball after school. Table tennis, a game of skill and talent will later be a challenge for tournaments. While cageball is simply a fun-sport with emphasis on "leg" coordination and strength.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons the girls bowl at Dixon Recreation. The cost is about 45 cents for two games and girls compete in teams for first place honors. On Thursdays a swimming hour from 4-5 p.m. is held at Lincoln Lodge giving the girls a chance to lumber up for summer. Monday evenings from 6:30-8:30 p.m. are set aside for specialized work on tumbling apparatus.

A few girls will have a chance to go to Chestnut Lodge in Galena for a skiing experience sometime in February. The cost of $3.50 will include transportation, ski rental, and instructions. If enough girls are interested a second trip to the lodge will be planned for a later date.

VOTE FOR HAROLD BAY FOR CITY COMMISSIONER

Let's keep Dixon on the move. Did you know that Dixon has one of the most modern and up to date street departments in the state, and because of this, we are saving the city thousands of dollars. When I took office my appropriation was $147,000, now we are spending less than $100,000 per year.

The street department has built and reshaped miles of streets in Dixon. We have replaced blocks and blocks of old sidewalk and curbs.

We have taken out over 2,500 dead elm trees. Now that we have the elm disease under control, we would like to start a program where we can remove the stumps and replant other trees. This will take a few years, but to keep Dixon beautiful it should be done.

Dixon has the Spring and Fall clean-up, and the leaf and grass pickup which they did not have eight years ago—before Harold Bay took office.

We have the storm sewer for the West part of Dixon all ready for bids. It has been approved by the state and the right-of-ways have been obtained from the railroad. We hope to have this project completed this summer. (This storm sewer extends from seventh street to the river.)

There are many more things to be done in the next four years with all of the new industry that has come to Dixon. This means we must have good planning and foresight.

For honesty and efficiency in government

Conflict of Interest Law

There have been a number of unsigned letters received by this newspaper and so many people have asked us about the Conflict of Interest Law that we have asked for and received a copy of the law from an attorney. The State of Illinois law reads as follows:

3-14 4. PECUNIARY INTERESTS IN CONTRACTS — PROHIBITION.

No municipal officer shall be interested, DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY, in any contract, work, or business of the municipality, or in the sale of any article, whenever the expense, price, or consideration of the contract, work, business, or sale is paid either from the treasury or by any assessment levied by any statute or ordinance. No municipal officer shall be interested, DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY, in the purchase of any property which (1) belongs to the municipality, or (2) is sold for taxes or assessments, or (3) is sold by virtue of legal process at the suit of the municipality. 1961, May 29, Laws 1961, p.576, 3-14-4.

Mayor George Lindquist, owner of the Rock River Ready Mix Company, has furnished all of the cement for all of the new streets that have been built in the downtown improvement in Dixon. Lindquist was Northern Illinois manager for Charles Percy in 1964. In checking we find that in a previous Dixon City Council Mr. Ligouri Welch voluntarily gave up his city insurance business so as to comply with the law. Kenneth Mall of the Mall Insurance Agency, and a present member of the Dixon Park Board, did likewise for the same reason. They are to be commended.

There has been only one bid taken for all this city cement work. The management of the Ladd Construction, when asked why they asked for only one bid and why the Fraza Material Company was not allowed to bid, only answered, "We will give August Fraza some business some time." Other firms, as well, should be allowed to bid.

We feel strongly that with the hundreds of thousands of dollars spent for cement streets in Dixon that the Fraza Material Company should have been given at least a shovelful of business. We think Gus Fraza has a right to eat bread and butter the same as anyone else.

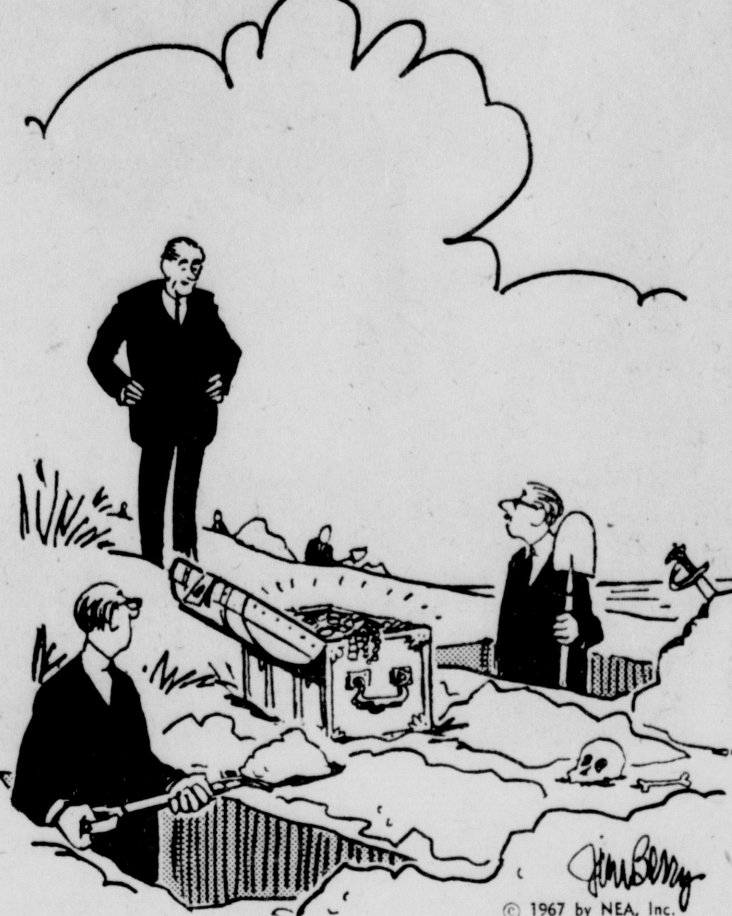

We, like many others, wonder if Mayor Lindquist is violating the Conflict of Interest Law. We also wonder if he is in some way getting around the law or circumventing it. If this is the case then we say it is morally wrong.

When the time runs out on a parking meter (one armed bandits) the person is given a parking fine. It doesn't take enough brains to overflow a thimble to know that all the laws of the state should be lived up to and obeyed.

City, county and state officials should live by the same laws, the same as everyone else.

BERRY'S WORLD

"You see! Balancing the budget is NOT hopeless!"

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I am still boiling over that letter from the woman who had a few dozen words for mothers who take their children to the beauty shop.

Nobody wants children. The super-market managers complain because they knock over the merchandise and fool with the carts. Movies don't want them because they are noisy. Restaurant people hate to see them come in. Many apartment ads say "No Children." Several fancy resorts print on their brochures, "Peaceful and quiet. Adults Only."

What in the world are people with children supposed to do—keep them in the closet until they are 18?

I have seen some of these youngsters whose parents never took them any place. They are like savages and it's not their fault, Ann. They've never been out before. Please print this letter as a rebuttal. — PRO SMALL FRY

Dear Pro: The "little savages" you see running around in beauty shops, super-markets, and restaurants are not wild because they have never been out before—many of them have been out a good bit. They are wild because they are undisciplined. No one has taken time and trouble to train them to behave properly. Children do not belong every place—even well-trained children. But a youngster who is mannerly and well behaved is welcomed almost anywhere.

Dear Ann Landers: I had been dating a very nice chap for several months. We both attend Hendrix College. Last week my boy friend came to the dorm and asked me to go for a short ride before supper. I said yes and away we went. Half an hour later I heard some stirring in the back seat of the car and was shocked to find that a girl from the dorm had sneaked into the car and was lying on the floor, covered with a blanket. When we uncovered her she was laughing and said it was a gag and she couldn't understand why we were annoyed with her.

What do you think of a gag like this? Are we humorless and stuffy as she insists? — CONWAY, ARK.

Dear Ark: Gag my foot. The little sneak was hoping to get an

Amboy Girl Writes Paper

(The following article was written by Pamela Smith, a sophomore in Amboy High School, and was published in the Chicago Tribune's "Voice of Youth Column." Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith.)

If you should ever get a free moment or two, it's sometimes good just to sit and contemplate. You should start by asking yourself, "Who am I, really?"

Of course, the obvious answer is that I am Pam Smith, a 15-year-old, white, and an American. But that isn't what I mean.

Look inside yourself. You were put on this earth for a purpose and to be a complete person you must fulfill this purpose.

You might think, "I know why I am. I know the facts of life." I don't mean this either.

Didn't you ever wonder why God made you instead of someone else. He could have just as easily.

In our world people could take the defeatist's attitude by thinking, "Why was I or anyone else brought into this mess? We're all going to die anyway, so why do anything about our problems?"

This shows a warped sense of values. Sure, we're all going to die, but while we're here, shouldn't we keep busy, making the world a better place for others?

It's your life to live. You can make it good or bad.

What am I? I'm a person, an individual with my own rights and powers. I can conform, or follow the crowd.

On the other hand I can be an extremist, a protestor; or I can hit a happy medium and just be myself, a person.

Finding your true purpose in this life is very difficult. Don't put off making the choice. Am I going to be a doer or just a talker?

I'm one of God's wonderful creatures. It isn't my life as such; it's God's. He owns it. It isn't fair of me to take a selfish attitude, because I don't belong to myself. I belong to God.

Voice of The People

Dear Mr. Shaw:
You hold a position of power. Your newspaper finds its way into hundreds of area homes. This means that your editorials are seen by thousands of persons some of whom are of school age. I am sure that you feel a sense of responsibility for the character of the printed material which reaches these young Telegraph readers.

Now, Mr. Shaw, I do not criticize the subject matter of your editorials. You own the paper and have every right to use its editorial columns to fight with the Democrats, with the progressives in your own party, and even with City Hall. I ask only that you try to conduct your battles with grammatical accuracy.

Alas, you apparently couldn't care less about the grammatical aspects of writing. My own grammar is far from flawless; but, to put it bluntly, yours is atrocious! I find it incongruous for your writing to appear on the same page with the writing of Bob Nelles, an outstanding purveyor of clear, concise, and effective English.

I find annoying your habit of using hackneyed and ambiguous expressions. However, I believe your habit of using faulty sentence structure is a graver offense. Mr. Shaw, your sentence structure is so improper that samples of your writing could be used as incorrect examples in a language text book. Often your "sentences" do not even express complete thoughts. More frequently your sentences are overloaded. You use run-on sentences and stringy compound sentences both of which indicate careless thinking.

The thought which you intend to express is sometimes clouded because of incorrect references of pronouns, participles, gerunds, and infinitives. You seem to be completely unaware of the fact that ideas that are parallel in thought should likewise be parallel in grammatical construction. I also find fault with your shifting the point of view within a sentence. The same subject and the same voice of the verb should be used throughout a sentence.

To all of this, you may reply, "So?"

However, I sincerely hope that you will take action. If you agree that you have a responsibility to Dixon's youth, you will. I do not propose that you enroll in a rhetoric course or even that you invest in a paper-back grammar review. Rather, I suggest that after you write your editorials that you read them aloud before submitting them to the composing room. Better still, ask someone to read the editorials to you. I believe you will hear your syntactical errors even though you do not see them.

Hopefully yours,

Ruth Henry (Mrs. F. E.)

Editor's Note—The editor agrees wholeheartedly with everything you say in your letter. He has never pretended to be a member of Phi Beta Kappa and in fact is a college dropout. It is good for the soul and rather nice to have someone who is brilliant write in and put us in our place. We are sorry our editorial on parking meters displeased you. We are pleased you like Robert Nellis because we do too.

The editor doesn't care what anyone calls him so long as it isn't "early."

The editor isn't mad but his wife is. As a former teacher she taught English and music and all of these terrible editorials are read to her before publication.

This leaves the editor in a terrible dilemma. He doesn't know whether to shoot his wife or stop writing editorials.

Incidentally, Mrs. Henry, Nellis is spelled with an "i" instead of an "e."

Johnson's Budget: Politics by Billions

President Johnson has submitted his budget for Fiscal 1968—the money year that begins next July 1—and as this column predicted, it is a lollapalooza. It will take weeks of study before its dimensions and its doubletalk can be fully understood — if then.

But looking at it with the cold look of a few days of contemplation, it can be said that Mr. Johnson has produced one of the great political documents of our time.

This is apparent in many ways. To begin with, there is the sudden shift from the former "administrative" budget to a "National Income Accounts" (NIA), or "cash" budget. This is a story in itself.

For years, economists have called on the federal government to announce its budget in cash terms, rather than as an administrative tally that left out billions of dollars spent by the treasury from trust funds to which the citizen contributed in direct taxes. This reasonable request has been steadily refused because the cash budget runs to some $20 billion above the administrative budget.

President Johnson's sudden decision to switch to the bigger and more accurate figure has been hailed in some circles as a move of great courage. After all, the cash budget he submitted to Congress called for $169.2 billion, whereas the administrative budget would have been $135 billion—a staggering figure when one recalls that in the first full fiscal year of the Kennedy-Johnson administration, the federal government spent a little less than $88 billion. (The last full fiscal year under President Eisenhower cost us roughly $11 billion less.)

Doubts as to the President's motives are stirred by one significant fact: Under the cash (or NIA) budget, the projected federal deficit is only $2.1 billion. Under the administrative budget, the President would have had to admit that the cost of running the government would have put the treasury (and the taxpayer) $8.1 billion in the red. By using the NIA figure, the President can claim that he will have a balanced budget in the last six months of FY 1968.

There are, of course, several major catches in that claim. For one thing, to lower the deficit, Mr. Johnson has had to add apples and oranges. The administrative deficit remains high, and it will bring a further and frightening increase to the national debt. The trust funds, whose income "offsets" the Administrative deficit, are earmarked for such payments as Social Security and have no connection with federal operating expenditures.

Catch Number 2 is far more worrisome. For even a casual look at the telephone-book size federal budget for FY 1968 shows that Mr. Johnson has kept down the deficit by systematically overestimating federal expenditures. This is an old story at the White House, but one that Capitol Hill seems to forget every year.

A careful study made by the American Enterprise Institute of annual budgets, as submitted to Congress, and the actual expenditures show that, in nine of the past 16 years, the year-end bill was higher than what had been projected. In the first complete Kennedy year, for example, expenditures exceeded the budget by $7 billion. In submitting his FY 1966 budget, President Johnson boasted that he was keeping it under the $100 billion mark ($99.7 billion, to be exact) — but the actual bill to the taxpayer was $107 billion, or up 7.3 per cent.

In FY 1967, the current year, Mr. Johnson's "estimate" was $14 billion under what will be spent, an increase of 12.3 per cent. If the budget now before Congress follows the same pattern — as is likely — then the year's expenditures for the administrative budget will run to a staggering $151 billion, with an overall cash budget of $185 billion.

The only way to prevent the more than remote possibility of a $19 billion deficit, given the spending proclivities of the Johnson administration, is for the Congress to examine every item in the new budget, including military spending. The war effort in Vietnam must not be crippled by budgetary penny-pinching. But there are some experts in the field who believe that Defense Secretary Robert Strange McNamara has been a poor administrator of the vast sums appropriated by a trusting Congress. There is always water in a military budget, and if the country is to remain solvent, this is the time to wring it out.

Rationing of retreaded tires as well as new tires and tubes may begin this month, it was learned today from government sources.

Two attempts by the Japanese to land troops on the west coast of Bataan peninsula last night were repulsed, the war department announced today.

The severance of diplomatic relations with Germany was formally announced to the world by President Wilson at a joint session of Congress at 2 o'clock today. The United States now stands on the verge of war, with all the precedents of a century pressing it forward.

Little Miss Grace Plein, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Plein, on Thursday afternoon celebrated her fourth birthday by sharing its joys with 12 of her little friends at a birthday party at her home on Sixth Street.

A nomination paper for the office of Mayor, bearing the signature of George Steel is being generally signed. This is the first paper we remember to have seen which complies with the law governing such petitions.

We are pleased to note that the grip is abating somewhat in and about Dixon. At least all the muscles in the body of suffering humanity do not make it a regular business to ache all the time. Citizens begin to see, smell, and hear, and recognize their neighbors. Many are becoming again quite cheerful.

"I Think I Hear a Flutter!"

Miss Wolf Is Bride of Russell S. Koss

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Louise Anna Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Wolf, Dixon, and Russell Stanley Koss, son of Mrs. Helen Koss and Stanley Koss, Chicago, in a wedding performed at 11:30 a.m. Saturday in St. Anne's Catholic Church by the Rev. Melvin Vlasz, assistant pastor of the church.

Music preceding the double-ring ceremony was provided by Mrs. Arthur P. Mills, organist, who also accompanied the soloist, Miss Rosalie Hanson, as she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The church altar, banked with basket arrangements of white chrysanthemums and ferns, held additional bouquets of chrysanthemums and pompons, and bows of white satin were attached to the pews.

Bridal Gown

Saturday's bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a wedding gown of candlelight satin brocade fashioned with a floor length A-line skirt and an empire bodice featuring a scooped neckline and long sleeves tapering to wristpoints. Viennese lace edged the gown's hemline and detachable wattle train, and her bouffant bridal veil of imported silk illusion fell from a pearl-embroidered brocade pillbox. The amethyst and gold bracelet she wore was a gift from Mr. Koss, and a white cattleya orchid centered the cascading bouquet of chrysanthemums, pompons and ivy which she carried atop a white Bible.

Miss Janet Lou Wolf, San Francisco, Calif., attended her twin sister as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Kathleen Koss, Chicago, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Helen Tshudy, Washington, D.C., who was stationed with the bride in Liberia, West Africa, where both served two years as members of the Peace Corps.

The royal blue velvet bodice of Miss Wolf's gown was designed with long sleeves and a scooped neckline, and topped a full length skirt of powder blue crepe accented by a velvet and crepe panel train attached to a waist-line back-bow.

Royal blue velvet and crepe were combined in the identically styled gown worn by Miss Koss, and Miss Tshudy's gown was of moss green velvet and crepe. Shoulder length veils trimmed their matching Dior bow headpieces, and their bouquets combined blue-tinted pompons, elegance carnations and ivy strands.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wolf selected a sheath of citron Italian silk complemented by a lace overblouse, a matching silk coat and citron accessories, and a tunic costume of gold lace was worn with brown accessories by the bridegroom's mother. Their flowers were corsages of green cymbidium orchids.

Attending Mr. Koss as best man was his brother-in-law, John Walker, Downers Grove; Aaron Johnson and William W. Hubbell served as groomsmen, and ushering was done by Dennis Drew.

The newlyweds were honored at a reception held in the Nachusa House Trail Room following the service when guests from Dixon, Cherry Valley, Chicago, Sterling, Barrington, Earlville, La Moille and from Washington, D. C., were registered by Mrs. Robert Fulmer Jr.

A tiered wedding cake which centered the reception table, was topped by a nosegay of blue and white pompons and was encircled at the base by a garland of ivy and blue pompons. Floral decorations included bouquets of blue iris and daisies, white elegance carnations and springerita fern arranged with silver candelabras holding lighted tapers.

Mrs. Lyle Clapper, Barrington, presided at the coffee service and punch bowl, and gifts for the couple were displayed by the bride's cousins, Miss Marilyn Wolf and Miss Neva Jo Wolf, La Moille. Additional reception assistants were Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Collins.

To Wisconsin

For their Wisconsin wedding trip, the new Mrs. Koss chose a traveling costume of green and white wool, matching accessories and the orchid corsage from her bouquet. A Dixon High School graduate, she earned a B. S. degree in biology from the University of Illinois where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. She also attended the U of I in Chicago, and since the completion of her assignment with the Peace Corps, she has been enrolled in the Medical Technology Program at Carle Clinic in Champaign where they will be residing at 209 W. Healy St.

Mr. Koss, a certified public accountant, graduated from St. Patrick's High School, Chicago, and received a B. S. degree in accounting from the University of Illinois. He is presently attending the university school of law and is serving as a lieutenant in the Navy Reserves.

Golf: A Religious Game

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Golfers take note: Rabbi Israel Gerber of Charlotte says golf is a religious game.

Writing in a recent issue of Temple Beth El's newsletter, Rabbi Gerber had this to say: "Golf isn't religious simply because it is often played on Sunday mornings, or even because of the sacrifices people make for it and the single-minded devotion with which they regard it.

"It is religious because the basic idea of the game is a spiritually sublime one. In golf, as some golfers of my acquaintance play it, the object is not so much to defeat the other player as to improve yourself, to do better today than you did the last time.

"At first you struggle to break 100. When you can do that regularly, you try to whittle it down to 90, or even 80. You analyze what you're doing wrong and try to correct the little faults that ruin your score. And if your partner is going around in fewer strokes, because he's been playing longer or has more ability, that doesn't upset you. You concentrate on knocking a few strokes off your own score and if you can do that, you're exultant.

"Wouldn't we be at the threshold of the Messianic era if people who accept these notions so blithely on the golf course would extend them to other areas of life as well?"

Dr. Gerber, who holds a degree in psychology — but still is trying to break 100 himself on the golf course — proposes the following indoor variations of golf "suitable for inclement weather when the course is inaccessible:

"1. Ethical golf: In which people will ask, not 'Am I no worse than my competition?' but rather, 'Could I — with some effort and practice — be a little bit better, more honest, more sensitive, tomorrow than I was yesterday?"

"2. Status golf: In which nobody will worry about keeping up with the Joneses, but people at all times will ask 'What is my real level? What is right for me?' — never satisfied to be less than they might be, never long to be more than they have the capacity to be.

"3. Synagogue golf: In which people will rush up to the local pro (rabbi) and ask him urgently, 'Please tell me, what little thing am I doing wrong, so that I may correct it — then rush out to put into practice the advice he gives them.

Scene From Bishop's Company Play

Bishop's Co. Presents Play

The Bishop's Company, nationally known American Repertory Players, will appear at First Methodist Church Sunday at 7:30 p.m. to present the modern soul-searching drama, "Do You Know the Milky Way?" by Karl Wittlinger. In the accompanying photo Mr. Gruber confronts Christopher Kiefer with a basic question about life.

The play portrays a returning war veteran attempting to find his true identity and in so doing delves into the age-old question of who is Man. What is his true identity and is he a child of God? He sees the world as it CAN BE and not as it IS. He is unashamed to admit to such feelings as "faith" and "fear" to learn the potentials of both. The action moves from a ward in a psychiatric hospital to the folkways of our society.

This play has been presented to more than 9,000 audiences around the world and translated into nine languages. The author describes the play as tragic-comedy. "The play cannot be a comedy because what the world can do to man can be too painful and ugly. Yet it cannot be a tragedy because the good in man, though it may be stopped, even murdered, can never be annihilated."

Robert Coleman, drama critic of The New York Mirror said the play was one of great social significance. Walter Kerr drama critic of the New York Herald Tribune called it perceptively important.

Area Artists Show Work at Exhibition

OREGON — Two area artists are participating in the First Exhibition of Religious Arts and Crafts which will be held in the main dining room of the Court Street Methodist Church, Court and Mulberry Streets, Rockford.

This will be for one day only, this Sunday from 1:30 to 8:30 p.m. The aim of the show is to stimulate interest in religious arts and crafts currently produced in the Rockford area. The purpose is to encourage creative people to develop and depict work of this nature and by welcoming the public to enjoy a tasteful display of such work where it may be viewed and purchased.

Harry Nurmet, Oregon, will have works on display. He is gaining recognition in the field of religious art and has been the instigator of religious art shows at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Oregon. In 1966 his painting "We Preach Christ" won the first prize at this show and also won a special award at St. Angar's Religious Art Show in Rockford in 1963.

Mrs. Rose Fleming, Mount Morris, will have two paintings in the show, one of which "A time for peace" won honorable mention in the second Religious Art Show in Oregon.

The public is most cordially invited to view the works which will include drawings, paintings, sculpture, carving, jewelry, metalwork, ceramics, flower arrangements, fancywork or any other craft with a theme of religious significance.

do I make my point CLEAR?

No wonder there's a Berlin wall!
It's so hard to get people to accept ideas — to continue to accept them.
It takes ruthlessness, brutality, oppression.
Or does it?
Jesus Christ was a carpenter in Nazareth. That was centuries ago. But the ideas he shared with his disciples are preached from our pulpits today. The truths for which he offered his life are being lived by millions of Christians.
How did he make his point so clear . . . and so eternal?
He did it through Love and Self-sacrifice . . . and God's Power. He did it through the very gifts which he imparts today to those who worship Him!

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B-553: Jerry W., aged 29, is infatuated.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I am crazy about a Northwestern University coed named Lorna. But she doesn't seem interested in me at all, although I fell in love with her at first sight."

"So could I ever win her love? If so, how?"

"Hot Dog" Strategy

Youngsters don't like hot dogs when they first encounter them. But because hot dogs are often linked with picnics and outdoor fun, the many pleasures associated with camping or picnics and outdoor frolic, soon become associated with the hot dogs.

Ultimately, these hot dogs resurrect many diffuse but very pleasurable moods.

So the children now think they are delicious. Indeed, the usual child will even disdain steak or chicken at fancy restaurants and demand hot dogs!

Yet the very same type of meat and seasoning were present when the baby may have spit out its first taste of a hot dog. So the chemical quality of the hot dog may remain identical; yet it will soon change into the most desirable meat item on the average child's menu.

This same process occurs in building up a romance of the "earned" love variety.

You can take two people who have only a neutral attitude toward each other and soon have them ardently in love, just by this same "hot dog" strategy.

Actually, most marriages didn't start out with love at first sight. The couples probably met on a blind date or via computer machine at the Scientific Marriage Foundation.

Then they attended a movie, which was pleasurable.

So some of that pleasure figuratively spilled over on the person you were dating.

If you had a delicious dinner together, the delightful meal also left a vague "spill-over" emotional effect.

If you attended the opera or a ball game or church or a picnic or a dance or just a stroll across the campus during a beautiful moonlit night, all of the resulting pleasures from various sensory realms, then became vaguely fastened to the person you dated.

Soon, his voice on the phone or the sight of him coming down the street will set loose a flood of these diffuse but pleasurable emotions.

For he (or she) thus becomes a symbol of many experiences that you have shared together.

This is called the "earned" love formula, by which you build mutual love through many shared, happy experiences.

In love at first sight, you have have subconsciously linked such myriad pleasures with some striking features of your mother or father or brother, sister or favorite cousin.

Later, you may meet a stranger who has the same shaped nose or profile or gestures or voice, and suddenly you are overwhelmed by a rush of happy emotions that accumulated during the years of your childhood.

The stranger thus bowls you over by "love at first sight."

Yet even that is really an "earned" type of love, but was earned legitimately by your father, mother or other generous relative.

Joint Air Pollution Bills Set

ST. LOUIS (AP) —The governors of Missouri and Illinois said Thursday they will introduce bills in their legislatures to form an interstate agreement on air pollution control.

The target date for the bills is March 1, according to Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri.

The federal government was mentioned as a possible participant in such an agreement.

"Under a possible plan," said Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, "the federal government would vote only in case of a tie on what to do about a certain situation."

The Illinois governor said he agreed with the Missouri governor on a regional air pollution group.

The governors met Thursday afternoon in a closed meeting at a motel west of St. Louis.

After the meeting Gov. Hearnes said, "Missouri and Illinois want to show the federal government that a state can do the job of air pollution control."

As a guideline, the governors may have referred to an air pollution control agreement now in effect between Illinois and Indiana.

Gov. Kerner said the Missouri-Illinois agreement would be a much better package than the Illinois-Indiana agreement. He declined to elaborate.

Heat on Detroit To Make Autos More Theftproof

By TOM NOLAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The automobile industry, already reeling from a batch of safety standards which would require substantial design changes in new cars, appears to be in for another blow from—of all things—President Johnson's newly declared war on crime.

The big rub for Detroit this time will stem from proposals to make automobiles more theft-proof.

The report of the National Crime Commission, due for release on Feb. 19, will include a recommendation to change the ignition system to make car stealing more difficult.

In recent auto theft hearings before the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee, three of the four witnesses called for legislation to require manufacturers to adopt anti-theft devices on new cars.

Car stealing is the nation's costliest crime against property. Losses to the public and the insurance industry are about $500 million a year.

Final figures for last year are not yet available, but it is almost certain that the 1966 auto theft figure will pass the half-million mark. FBI figures for the first nine months indicate a 10 per cent jump in the number of car thefts from 1965.

Every year, the auto theft rate increases faster than either the number of vehicles manufactured or the population.

Perhaps the most serious aspect of the crime is the fact that it's a young man's ball game. Offenders under 18 account for 64 per cent of all car theft arrests; persons under 25 are responsible for nearly 90 per cent of the total arrests. Many of them are repeaters.

Though the subcommittee examined many proposals for reducing the crime, its first round of hearings stressed the need for design changes in new cars. Further hearings will be held in February.

Among the proposed anti-theft devices — steering wheel and transmission locks, hood locks, armor-plated ignition systems, double latches for ventilation windows and recessed door handles.

The industry, currently at odds with the National Traffic Safety Agency over 23 safety standards for 1968 cars, is reluctant to discuss further design changes which may not even be put into effect.

But some industry sources privately point out that some of the anti-theft devices could conflict with the safety standards which are eventually adopted.

A steering wheel lock, for example, would make the wheel and column more rigid, could cause serious knee injuries in a crash. Recessed door handles could cause the door to spring open from an impact on the opposite side. Armor-plated ignition systems could be more likely to short out.

Other areas examined in the Senate hearings:

Master keys: A set of four or five keys which will open most cars in a particular model series (such as the 1963 Chevrolet Impala). Master keys are sold via mail order by firms which advertise in national magazines. Some authorities estimate that 15 per cent of the cars stolen are taken by the use of master keys.

A 14-year-old arrested in New York City had a key ring containing more than 100 such keys. Police theorized he could unlock practically any car in the city, including every police vehicle.

Unlocked cars: FBI figures indicate that more than 40 per cent of the autos stolen are left unattended with keys in the ignition. The National Auto Theft Bureau estimates that approximately 80 per cent of the cars stolen are left by the owners with the doors unlocked.

Several cities, including Chattanooga, Dallas and San Francisco, have greatly reduced auto thefts through local "Lock Your Car" campaigns. Other communities have made it an offense (similar to a parking violation) to leave a car unlocked and unattended. In these areas, auto thefts have decreased by as much as 45 per cent.

Several anti-theft devices have already been incorporated by the industry. General Motors has modified Chevrolet and Buick ignition systems to make it impossible for the key to be removed without locking the ignition. Ford added a double-edged key, making it more difficult for thieves to open the lock with a "jiggler" key.

But to many authorities, these steps are not enough.

The general reaction in Washington is that the President's tough cry to curb crime in his State of the Union message may have scared Detroit more than it did criminals.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Feb. 3, the 34th day of 1967. There are 331 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1943, the U.S. troopship Dorchester was torpedoed in the North Atlantic. Four chaplains of different faiths gave their life preservers to soldiers and went down with the ship. The heroic deed was commemorated by a chapel dedicated to the four chaplains by President Harry S. Truman at Philadelphia eight years later.

On this date:

In 1809, the Territory of Illinois was created.

In 1913, the income tax amendment to the Constitution was ratified.

In 1917, the United States severed diplomatic relations with Germany.

In 1924, Woodrow Wilson, the 28th president of the United States, died.

In 1946, Allied headquarters in Tokyo published complete figures on casualties in the atomic bombing of Hiroshima the previous August. The figures showed that 78,150 persons died, 13,983 were missing and 214,412 were wounded.

Ten years ago — In reaction to a U.N. General Assembly vote approving an American resolution calling for Israel's withdrawal from Egypt, Israel said it would not withdraw from Egyptian land they had taken unless Israel received guarantees from the United Nations.

Five years ago — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was well along on a 28-day around-the-world goodwill tour.

One year ago — An unmanned Soviet space ship made a successful soft-landing on the moon and immediately began to transmit telemetric signals to earth.

A Day With Jimmy Stewart

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
(Second of three articles: a day with Jimmy Stewart)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The studio limousine swings off the freeway and glides through softly rolling green hills, studded with gnarled sprawl of ancient oaks.

James Stewart, a very-much-alive legend of Hollywood, is being delivered for a day's work at the Albertson Ranch, location for his latest movie, "Firecreek." At the ranch entrance, he hops out, unfastens the gate, and locks it after the car passes through.

Talks to Costar

As the limousine bounces over the unpaved road, Stewart talks about his costar, Henry Fonda. Surprisingly, they have never appeared together in a full-length feature before.

"Oh, Hank and I go back — well, to the year I got out of Princeton (1932)," Stewart reminisces. "I went up to Cape Cod to appear with the University Players, and Hank was up there playing with another bunch—the Cape Players it was."

"That winter we both went down to New York to see if we could get work as actors. We roomed together, along with Myron McCormick and sometimes Josh Logan or Kent Smith. Oh, we had some pretty crazy times."

The car arrived at the location, a tiny Western town put up especially for the movie. Fonda saunters over.

"How'd it go 'smorning?'" asks Stewart.

"Lousy," Fonda growls. "All I had was one crummy scene where that little kid was playing in the mud. All week long that kid has been playing in the mud. But when we try to get one lousy, 30-second scene, the kid walks away! We tried everything, and he won't play in the mud."

Plays a Heavy

Fonda wears a thick black stubble that is supposed to underscore his villainy. For the first time in his 32-year career, he is playing a heavy.

"I gotta shoot Jimmy Stewart in the leg!" he says with a disparaging whistle. "Migawd, that's like attacking motherhood."

The two share many memories, and they rake over a few as they stand in a corral, waiting to be called for filming. There was the time they had a house together in West Los Angeles when both were bachelors.

"That was the one with the cats," remembers Fonda. "We started with 2 and they proliferated until we had 35, all of them wild. The place was getting black with fleas, and it was real awful. We couldn't catch 'em. And we couldn't poison 'em because they'd die under the house and stink up the joint."

"One day I came home from work and found Hank on the porch with a bow and arrow," says Stewart, laughing at the memory.

"I thought maybe I could shoot 'em with an arrow, then they couldn't get under the house because the arrow would still be sticking in 'em," explains Fonda. "But I never could hit one of the damn things!"

"Do you suppose," says Fonda, "that all the things we tell about really happened, or do they get better each time we tell them?"

"A little of both," says Stewart, "a little of both."

Next: Stewart on acting and his future.

Mount Morris Woman's Club Sets Meeting

MOUNT MORRIS—Mount Morris Woman's Club will meet Feb. 6 at Pine Crest Manor at 7:30 p.m.

The program "Silent Sentinels of the Past" will be presented by the Rev. and Mrs. Wayne S. Nordstrom of Galva. The program will be illustrated with glass bottles and music.

Mrs. Nordstrom is the former Elouise Jacobs, who was a music teacher in the local schools a few years ago.

Counseling Service Planned

OREGON — Plans were made at a meeting of the Oregon Ministerial Association on Monday to implement agreement with the Oregon Community High School to provide a counseling service to youth at the school belonging to the various Oregon community congregations.

All counseling sessions are to be held during student's study halls; all are to be arranged in advance through the school office; and matters relating to specific religious instruction, academic progress, course selection, and other related school concerns are not to be included in the counseling program.

The Rev. Frank Bonnike, St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, was authorized to draw up a schedule so that each Oregon pastor wishing opportunity to do such counseling may do so at least once a month.

Good Friday service plans were outlined by Pres. B. G. Silles, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The service will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, with the following local clergy preaching on the "Words from the Cross": the Rev. Mrs. Bob Wakefield, the Rev. Lyle Miller, the Rev. Jack Albee, the Rev. B. G. Silles, the Rev. Wayne Albright, the Rev. C. F. Pryor, and the Rev. Hillard Howard.

Farewell was said to the Rev. Harold Tegmeier, Emmanuel Lutheran Church, who assumed new duties as pastor of a Lutheran Church in Metropolis today.

Ohio News Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bradley, Evanston, are the parents of a daughter born Jan. 30. She has been named Colleen Clark and weighed 6 lbs. 9 oz. Mrs. Bradley is the former Sheila Evans.

The Bradleys also have a son, Eddie. Mr. and Mrs. James Evans, Ohio, are the maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Spohn, Ohio, are the maternal great-grandparents.

Urge LBJ To Cancel Stop By Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Illinois congressmen joined 38 House and Senate members Thursday in urging President Johnson to call off a scheduled visit by an aircraft carrier to Capetown, South Africa.

Republican Sen. Charles H. Percy and Democratic Rep. Barratt O'Hara criticized the scheduled refueling and liberty port visit this weekend by the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Percy protested in a statement that American Negro servicemen who have completed their combat duty "should not be subjected to the racial discrimination practiced in South Africa."

The freshman senator noted that former Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams told Congress last March that operational port calls in South Africa by U.S. naval vessels had been cancelled because of the country's racial conditions.

"Now, the Defense Department acknowledges that our ships visit Capetown routinely," Percy said. "I regard this as bad policy."

South Africa practices apartheid — separation of the races. Rep. O'Hara, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on Africa, joined the protests in a House speech.

A letter to the President signed by the 38 protesting congressmen said "such a sacrifice of principle to convenience questions the sincerity of our commitment to racial justice in Southern Africa."

Nelson Undeclared In YMCA Basketball

Ken Nelson still remains undefeated after seven games in YMCA adult basketball league action.

This week, Nelson handed Dixon Oil its second loss in seven outings, 59-52.

Nelson found itself behind at the opening period, trailing 13-12, but had hammered out a two point advantage at the half way point.

Nelson led 25-26 at halftime.

In the third period, Dixon Oil faltered, allowing Nelson a 14-9 period margin and a seven point lead going into the last stanza.

It was in the final period, that both clubs played even ball, neither obtaining an advantage as each scored 17 points.

Ken Nelson's Bob Hargrave chalked up 20 points followed by Mike Finney with 16, Bob Grove with 11, and Loren Swartley with 10.

For the losers it was Dick Bumba with 18 and Paul Sereg with 15.

In other league action this week, third place Admiral handed luckless Hal Roberts a 56-50 setback in Roberts seventh straight loss.

Bill Gorham led the Admiral drive, chipping in 21 points, and Darrell Wooldridge added 13.

Leading Hal Roberts was John Tiffany with 11 and Rich Stewart with 17.

Robert copped an early lead, 16-13 and held it at the half, leading 25-22.

In the third period, Admiral managed to knot the game, out-scoring Roberts 15-12. At the end of three periods, the score was 40-40.

In the final stanza, Roberts lost Stewart on fouls and Wooldridge left the game via the whistle tooters' request.

Admiral outshot Roberts 19-13 for the game winning margin.

In other games this week, Lindquist was defeated by Raynors 69-56 and Lawtons topped Popeye, 61-49.

Lawtons and Popeye battled to a 12-12 tie at the end of the first period, before Lawton's moved out in the second period to take an eight point lead.

Lawtons led at the end of the half, 28-20.

In the third and fourth periods, Lawtons edged Popeye, 18-17 in the third period and 15-12 in the final stanza to ice the game.

Lawtons was led by Art Barnhart who dropped in 20 points and Jerry Karlson who added 21 more. David Thompson had 13 for Lawtons.

Popeye's shooting ace was Willie Mott with 16 and Dan Kessel had 12 more.

Raynors led the first period, 19-17, but fell behind in the second period, trailing by five points at the half.

Raynors managed to shave one point off the deficit, but it was not until the final period, based upon a 19-12 point surge, that the club went into the lead.

Roy Bridgeman and Gene Bothe led the winners with 14 and 11 respectively, while Thomas Finn had 18 for the losers.

Also scoring in double figures for Lindquist were David Blaine with 12 and Jerry Tribble with 10.

In all star action this Sunday, Mount Morris and Oregon all-star teams will battle McCarthy Oil and Food World.

Game time is 1:30 p.m. at Madison Gymnasium.

Wednesday, Food World and McCarthy Oil will play the Mendota and McNabb all-star teams. Game time is 7 p.m. and 8:15 p.m.

Clay is Lighter

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Cassius Clay and Ernie Terrell both planned sparring rounds in their workouts today for Monday night's championship showdown fight, and Sonny Liston will be a spectator at Terrell's gym session.

Liston, who lost his world championship to Clay in 1964, stood silently by Tuesday in the Astrodome ring while Clay and Terrell submitted to the Texas Boxing Commission's tape measure and scales in a preliminary physical exam and unofficial weigh-in.

Both fighters' trainers were against the idea of the weighing. But Dr. Arthur Moers was insistent. The physician announced Clay's weight as 217½ and Terrell's as 218½.

Clay and Terrell had indicated earlier that they planned to be at about 210 for Monday night, but each was more than four pounds heavier Tuesday than on the night of his last title defense.

The ceremony produced a surprise for Clay's trainer, Angelo Dundee, who said beforehand he figured that Clay's reach was equal to Terrell's. Terrell's wingspan was 82 inches, Clay's 79.

Liston said he was wary of predicting anything, explaining, "If I could pick winners, I wouldn't have to be fighting for a living."

Liston attended Clay's workout Tuesday, watching him go seven tough rounds with Jimmy Ellis. Terrell planned two rounds of boxing today and sparring rounds in workouts Thursday and Friday.

George Halas Celebrates 72nd Birthday

CHICAGO (AP) — George Halas, leaving Father Time in the starting blocks, gingerly celebrated his 72nd birthday, declaring retirement is furthestmost in his mind.

He spent his birthday Thursday in the 20th strategy session with his assistant coaches since his Chicago Bears closed the 1966 National Football League season with a disappointing 5-7-2 record.

"The thing I would really like to celebrate is a championship," said Papa Bear. "We need every minute of work we can do for 1967, birthdays included."

He said his main football needs are offensive linemen, a deep defensive back, a quarterback and another running back, and that these may be provided by trades or from the player draft.

Halas was among those honored Thursday night at the annual Chicago Old Timers' Baseball Association dinner, at which he received a special achievement award.

"I got the recognition on the basis of my hitting average in 1919 during a brief time as outfielder for the New York Yankees," Halas said.

"I batted either .089 or .092—I can't remember which."

Halas, a widower with 12 grandchildren, recently was given a big OK in his annual physical checkup.

"You know," he said, "if I had one birthday wish, it would just be that my entire family will be okay."

Robinson Signs With Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Brooks Robinson, whose early-season hitting helped carry the Baltimore Orioles to the 1966 American League pennant, has signed his 1967 contract for about $75,000.

"It's the best raise I've ever gotten," Robinson said before getting an 8:30 a.m. flight out of Baltimore for a weeklong series of appearances in Montana and Canada.

Robinson, at 29 the oldest Oriole in point of service, jumped from about $35,000 to $50,000 after being named the league's Most Valuable Player in 1964. Last season, after a brief holdout, he signed for approximately $55,000.

Outfielder Frank Robinson, at $100,000 is the only higher paid Oriole.

"I'm looking forward to a good year," Brooks said. "Last season I didn't do as well after the All Star game, and this year I've got to keep on a more even keel."

The slick-fielding third baseman got off to a fast start at the plate in 1966. He had 70 runs batted in by mid-season, and led the league until Aug. 10.

Brooks was hitting .306 through July 22 with 81 RBI and 19 home runs before going into a slump which lasted the rest of the season. For the last 60 games, Robinson hit .206 with 19 RBI and four homers.

In addition to reaching the 100 RBI total for the second time in his career, Robinson was voted by the players as the top third baseman in the league for the seventh straight year and was named the outstanding player in the All Star game.

Brooks and teammates Frank Robinson and Boog Powell were the only American Leaguers named to the major league All Star team at the end of the season.

Mail Bag Information

That new NFL football team being started in New Orleans should have some local interest for members of Dixon's older generation, knowing that the executive vice president of the Saints is a former Dixon High School graduate — Arthur J. Palmer.

Palmer, a management consultant from Houston, Texas, was born in Nelson and attended the Dixon schools.

And while on the Saints, it should be noted that a minority director of the group, Al Hirt, is planning a 150-piece marching band for halftime shows.

The Saint's theme song? What else — "When the Saints Go Marching In."

The name of the team was picked after a public name-the-team contest was conducted by the State's Item newspaper in New Orleans. Saints was the name most requested in the public poll.

John Mecom Jr., the 27 year old president of the Saints said the group felt it was a good idea to go along with "the will of the people."

The city of New Orleans will build a domed stadium at an estimated cost of $30 million to be ready for the 1970 season. Until then the Saints will play in the Tulane University stadium (seating capacity — 82,000).

Team colors have yet to be named, but the French tri-colors, stemming from early city history, is being given serious consideration.

Next Wednesday the U.S. Fish and Wildlife service will release the official figures on duck kills on the Upper Mississippi River Wildlife and Fish Refuge. The refuge extends from the Mississippi River at Wabasha, Minn., to Rock Island.

It is expected that the service will report one of the most successful duck hunting years in the last five years, with hunters bagging more than 200,000 ducks.

An Oregon high school athlete, Jim Loan, now a senior at Carthage College, Kenosha, Wis., is a member of the school's 440 yard relay team, which helped the Redmen to last year win the College Conference of Illinois crown.

Other members of the team are sophomore Ron Zieth, who swept the 100 and 220 dashes last year in the CCI meet; and juniors Mahlon Meneley and Roger McGrath.

Carthage will have four home meets, beginning April 12. The club will have a new eight-lane all-weather track, which has been in preparation since 1965.

Following the greatest dollar volume year in history, the U.S. boat building industry in 1967 will array before the American boat buyer an even broader range of models and prices in the most popular stock boat classifications.

All told, there will be 3,638 stock recreational models available, both power and sail, ranging in price from $42 for an eight foot rubber raft to $385,000 for an 85-foot luxury cruiser.

This year's low in the inboard group is $775 — $359 is the low price for the stern drive group and the outboard group this year starts with an eight foot $69 model and runs to a $5,295 32-foot model. Gains recorded by outboard and houseboat builders have pushed the expansion of steel and aluminum use in the industry up an even 4 of one per cent.

Wilt Chamberlain Filmed; Warriors Lose 137-120

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

San Francisco's Warriors, using a $16,000 video tape machine Thursday night, slowed down Wilt Chamberlain and beat the Philadelphia 76ers.

Still unsettled, despite the films, is Warrior Coach Bill Sharman's contention that Chamberlain's spinning layin shot from under the basket is illegal.

But putting Chamberlain on tape apparently unsettled the National Basketball Association star.

His former Warrior teammate and understudy, Nate Thurmond, blocked eight of Wilt's shots, dominated both backboards with 23 rebounds and scored 16 points in San Francisco's 137-120 victory.

Chamberlain only managed 16 points.

It was only the eighth loss of the season for Philadelphia, the Eastern Division leaders. San Francisco leads the Western Division.

In the night's only other contest, Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson came off the bench in the fourth quarter as the Royals withstood a Baltimore surge, 131-125.

"Chamberlain whangs into the defender who has established his position," says Sharman. "I say that Wilt should be whistled down for charging."

Sharman has filed a complaint with Dolph Schayes, head of the NBA officials.

"Now we'll get it on film to prove our point," the Warrior coach says.

In addition to the video tape, the Warriors had Rick Barry, who tallied 49 points to broaden his lead as the league's highest scorer.

Cincinnati had built a 104-84 lead when Coach Jack McMahon replaced Robertson, because of a pulled hamstring.

Kevin Loughery, Don Ohl and Johnny Green of the Bullets closed the gap to a single point, 115-114 with 5:03 left in the fourth quarter.

"Go get Oscar!" bellowed McMahon.

With Robertson back on the floor, Cincinnati settled down and again took command of the game.

Speedster Eddie Tolan Dies Tuesday

DETROIT (AP) — When little Eddie Tolan's stubby legs carried him to double gold medal upset victories in the 1932 Olympics, he became the first Negro to be hailed as the fastest man alive.

Tolan, who electrified the track world with those victories, died Tuesday from an apparent heart attack. He was 57.

Tolan suffered complete kidney failure two years ago. He was undergoing weekly treatments at a Detroit hospital when he was stricken, doctors said.

His sister, Mrs. June Brown of Detroit, said Tolan, a bachelor, had gone to the hospital after teaching his physical education class at a Detroit elementary school.

Only 5-foot-4, Tolan was dubbed the Midnight Express when he ran track at the University of Michigan. He was graduated in 1931.

Tolan's success in the Big Ten Conference, where he set world marks of 9.5 seconds in the 100-yard dash and 10.4 in the 100-meter dash, prompted him to try out for the U.S. Olympic team in 1932.

He made the team, and he won the 100 and 200-meter dash events over favorites Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette and George Simpson of Ohio State.

His 10.3 clocking in the 100 tied an Olympic record as he beat Metcalfe in a photo finish. The record stood until the 1960 Games at Melbourne.

Two days later, Tolan stifled critics by beating Metcalfe and Simpson again in the 200 with a record 21.2. Jesse Owens broke his record in the 1936 Games.

Tolan was named to the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame in 1958 and is listed as one of the University of Michigan's all-time great athletes.

Tolan's creed was simple: Start fast, run easily, stay in your lane and finish strong.

Northwestern To Face Illini

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten kicks off a wild February basketball month Saturday with leading Northwestern bucking odds as it hits the road against Illinois in an afternoon game.

During the month, a rash of 35 conference games will be played, half the full schedule.

Northwestern takes a 4-0 record against the Illini who gave the Wildcats a scare at Evanston, Ill., in an earlier meeting before losing 104-96. Illinois is 2-2.

The Cats have won three straight home games since opening their conference bid at Michigan with a 93-73 victory. Now it's road time for them and they face home court advantage odds that have reached 14-7. In non-conference action, the home floor edge is 31-6.

In other Saturday afternoon encounters, Purdue, 2-2, is at Michigan, 1-4, for a television affair and Ohio State, 2-3, at Wisconsin, 2-2. Indiana, 2-1, is at Minnesota, 1-4, at night. Iowa faces Loyola of Chicago in the opener of a Chicago Stadium doubleheader. Kentucky Wesleyan faces Wheaton in the nightcap.

Northwestern and Illinois are the two highest scoring teams in the Big Ten with the Cats averaging 96.8 points a game, second in the nation, and the Illini 89.0.

Michigan State is the defensive leader with an average yield of 71.5 while Northwestern has 83.5 and Illinois 86.8.

In field goal percentage, Purdue is tops with .483 and Northwestern second with .467. Illinois is seventh with .410. Northwestern also is second in free throw accuracy with .757 while Iowa is No. 1 with .775. Illinois again is seventh with .677.

Iowa's Sam Williams has increased his scoring lead to 27.5 followed by Jim Dawson of Illinois with 24.8; Bill Hosket, Ohio State, 24.4; Jim Burns, Northwestern, 24.3; and Butch Joyner, Indiana, 21.3.

At a press conference announcing formation of the American Basketball Association Thursday, George Mikan, former star with the old Minneapolis Lakers who is commissioner of the league, said he expected a player war.

"We would be stupid not to ask players if they are not tied down," Mikan said. "You have to respect contractual obligations, but if there is a player without a contract, we invite him to contact us."

Mikan said Wilt Chamberlain, star center of the Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Association, had not been contacted. But Mikan added, "We hope his position is such that he can join us. We would like to have Wilt, Oscar Robertson and any players like that who are available."

The league plans to operate two, five-team divisions with New York, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, Ind., Minneapolis and New Orleans in the Eastern Division and Dallas, Houston, Kansas City, Oakland and Anaheim, Calif., in the West.
